

Name: Dr. Jan-Henrik Meyer

Email address: jhmeyer@gmx.de

Course title: European Studies

Language of instruction: English

Contact hours: The coursework corresponds to an on-site course amounting to 48 contact hours.

ECTS credits: 4

Prerequisites: Students should be able to speak and read English at the upper intermediate level (B2), preferably even higher. Interest in Berlin, and its extraordinary recent past.

General requirements: Please make sure to be online approximately from 8 am CET to 12:30 pm CET on the respective course days! Therefore, please check the possible time difference between Germany and your country of residence. We also recommend that you make sure to have a quiet and appropriate working space. To ensure a comfortable learning environment for all, please adhere to general netiquette rules.

Technical requirements:

- stable internet connection
- fully functional device, such as computer, laptop or tablet (use of smart phones not recommended), headset recommended
- recommended operating systems: Windows 7 or higher or Mac OS X 10,13 or higher, avoid using a VPN

Course description

The course will introduce the basics of the European Union (EU) and describe and explain the processes of widening and deepening of this unique political entity, drawing on some relevant theorising. It will provide an overview of European Union history, and will familiarise students with the EU's evolution in economic and political terms as well as of its institutional structure and key policies up until today.

The focus of the course will be internally on the state of EU integration and its challenges - the need for reform and the growing difficulty to actually agree upon and implement reforms in the face of rising populism, authoritarianism and nationalism. Externally, the course explores the international role of the EU with its emphasis on multilateralism, including its self-declared role as a leader in the fight against climate change. Special emphasis will be placed on Europe's current crises – the Euro crisis, the migration crisis, Brexit and the challenges resulting from the Corona pandemic that asymmetrically hit Europe.

The sessions consist of lectures, literature-based discussions and oral presentations from working groups. The course will include virtual visits and (upon availability) talks with experts from a number of institutions in Germany’s political center. Students will thus have the chance to discuss some of the topics with experts from political institutions and think tanks.

Student profile

Students from different countries, academic levels and backgrounds who are generally interested in European integration will benefit from each other in an intercultural and interdisciplinary learning process.

The course does not require special knowledge about European politics, law, history or culture, but participants should be interested in more than just their field of specialization.

In-class participation, especially in the discussions with experts, and in virtual presentations is essential for students’ learning experience and plays an important role in grading.

Prerequisites

The course is designed for students with different academic backgrounds and a general interest in Europe. There are no special prerequisites for the course.

Course requirements

Attendance; active participation in the seminar’s discussions and discussions with experts; oral and written presentation of a certain subject.

Grading

Participation: 40%,
 Oral presentations: 30%
 Final paper: 30%

Reading

See course schedule. A course reader will be provided.

Date	Program*
Thursday, January 7, 2021	Why integrate? History and theory of European Integration Virtual excursion to the German Museum of History (DHM)
Friday, January 8, 2021	How does the European Union (EU) work? Part I European Institutions Guest speaker from the European Parliament Representation (upon availability)
Monday, January 11, 2021	How does the EU work? Part II Making Policy and Law in the European Union Preparing for the “Lobbying the European Institutions Role Game”

Thursday, January 14, 2021	At the intersection of external and internal policies: Immigration and Asylum Policy Guest speaker from the Konrad Adenauer Foundation of the Christian Democratic Party (upon availability)
Friday, January 15, 2021	Managing an Economic and Monetary Union: Crisis responses from the Euro to the Corona crisis Discussion: Pros and cons of European Monetary integration
Thursday, January 21, 2021	In or out? Enlargement and the Brexit Saga Playing the “Lobbying the European institutions Role Game”
Friday, January 22, 2021	Climate and the Environment: EU as a leader? Guest speaker from Climate Analytics, Think tank (upon availability)
Monday, January 25, 2021	Final discussion: Challenges for the EU in the 21 st century Final exam

*Virtual excursions and guest speakers are subject to change depending on the availability of appointments and speakers. For virtual excursions and guest speakers, class hours may be adjusted slightly.